ACADEMIC PROJECTS

Teachers Assistant/Lab Assistant
Florida Gulf Coast University

August 2015 - January 2017

- Recorded, processed, cleaned, and cataloged physical artifacts and materials. Digitized the entirety of the assemblages and organized digital records which were then used to generate statistical models make inferences and test hypotheses. Packaged the final collection so that it could be stored in perpetuity. Worked with professors to assist in helping other students and assist in classroom duties.

Collections Assistant
Ah Tah Thi Ki Seminole Museum

December 2015 - August 2016

- Primarily worked with library staff to digitize archival material by creating searchable tags within the catalog to allow for easier accessibility. I used the Selenium Framework to automate the creation of digital entries of physical artifacts. Additionally, I leveraged the Pandas and BeautifulSoup libraries to automate the data entry of archival materials.

WORK EXPERIENCE

Infosys, Charlotte, NC
Technical Analyst

July 2019-July 2022

I primarily worked as a back-end Java developer leveraging the Spring framework and as Scrum Master for several enterprise-level companies in Infosys' finance vertical. I worked as a developer in agile teams consisting of onshore and offshore team members. My duties primarily consisted of creating or modifying Restful API to meet the company's business needs and creating automated testing using Parasoft. Furthermore, I coordinated with other agile teams across multiple divisions and sectors to develop and deploy new functionalities of existing fin-tech across multiple platforms. I handled maintenance, triage, and bug fixes for the legacy codebase using tools like Splunk, SOAPUI, and Ansible.
